DDWS Board welcomes new member

The “Ding” Darling Wildlife Society-Friends of the Refuge (DDWS) Board of Directors recently welcomed a new member, island resident Jeff Springer.

Springer has lived on Sanibel Island for five years with his wife, Sue. A retired bank executive, he devotes his time to photography, darkroom developing, and outdoor pursuits such as golfing, fishing, and biking; serves on the Finance and Wildlife committees at The Sanctuary Golf Club; and is a cooperative member of the Hirdie-Girdie Art Gallery on Sanibel.

DDWS, the "friends" organization for J.N. "Ding" Darling National Wildlife Refuge, supports education and intern programs for the Refuge. To become a friend of the refuge, visit www.dingdarlingsociety.org.
