DDWS teacher grants deadline Oct. 31

The “Ding” Darling Wildlife Society-Friends of the Refuge (DDWS), with J.N. “Ding” Darling National Wildlife Refuge, has announced its 14th annual round of teacher conservation grants. Up to $10,000 in grant awards are available to districts, schools, and individual teachers in Lee, Charlotte, and Collier counties this school year for conservation education-related projects.

Teachers in the three-county area may apply for grants up to $1,000 each to fund new classroom science projects, promote stewardship, purchase teaching aids, acquire classroom materials, and conduct work projects in their community or beyond. This year, two grants up to $3,000 are again also available to school- and district-wide projects.

All applicants are invited to submit conservation-related proposals by Oct. 31, 2019. The approved proposals will be awarded by December 2019 for projects to be completed by May 2020.

“Our conservation grants are an important part of the society’s mission to educate and create future conservation stewards from our young students of today,” said Wendy Kindig, DDWS Environmental Education Committee chair. “This year we are offering two new $3,000 grants to encourage larger creative projects that will touch more students. Plus, we still offer $1,000 grants for teachers with single-class projects or smaller needs.”

In the past 12 years, DDWS has granted more than $80,300 to local schools for environmental projects. The teacher grants are funded by monies received from the DDWS Conservation Education Endowment Fund established by Jay “Ding” Darling’s grandson, the late Kip Koss. To make a tax-deductible donation in support of the fund, contact DDWS executive director Birgie Miller at 239-472-1100 ext. 4 or director@dingdarlingsociety.com.
